

Please do not allow big business to use power transmission lines to propagate broadband internet activity. It would interfere with amateur radio frequencies that are already allocated for use. This has a long tradition and is still useful. Current access to internet is sufficient.